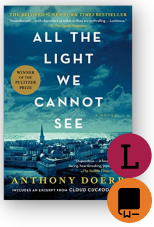
HISTORICAL FICTION

FOR ADULTS

Violeta by Isabel Allende
FICTION ALLENDE
The Spanish flu arrives on the shores of her South American homeland. Violeta's life will be shaped by some of the most important events of history: the fight for women's rights, the rise and fall of tyrants, and, ultimately, not one but two pandemics.

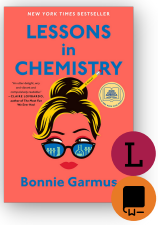
Moloka'i by Alan Brennert
FICTION BRENNERT
Seven-year-old Rachel is forcibly removed from her family's 1890s Honolulu home when she contracts leprosy and is placed in a settlement, where she loses a series of new friends before new medical discoveries enable her to reenter the world.

The Netanyahus by Joshua Cohen
FICTION COHEN
Mixing fiction with nonfiction, the campus novel with the lecture, The Netanyahus is a wildly inventive, genre-bending comedy of blending, identity, and politics.



All the Light We Cannot See
by Anthony Doerr
FICTION DOERR
The beautiful, stunningly ambitious instant New York Times bestseller about a blind French girl and a German boy whose paths collide in occupied France as both try to survive the devastation of World War II.

Hotel on the Corner of Bitter and Sweet by Jamie Ford
FICTION FORD
Set in the ethnic neighborhoods of Seattle during World War II and Japanese American internment camps of the era, this novel tells the story of widower Henry Lee, his father, and his first love Keiko Okabe.



Lessons in Chemistry by Bonnie Garmus
FICTION GARMUS
Set in the 1960s, this is the hilarious, idiosyncratic, and uplifting story of a female scientist whose career is constantly derailed by the idea that a woman's place is in the home, only to find herself starring as the host of America's most beloved TV cooking show.

Homegoing by Yaa Gyasi
FICTION GYASI
Half-sisters born into two different tribal villages in 18th century Ghana. One will live a life of luxury built upon slavery, and the other imprisoned and then sent to America as a slave. Stretching from the tribal wars of Ghana to the Civil War in America.
