

BUILDING

ZONING DEFINITION

To arrange or mark off into zones; specifically: to partition (a city, borough, or township) by ordinance into sections reserved for different purposes or uses (for example: agricultural, residential, business, manufacturing, industrial, etc.).