The Consumer Protection Team uses these definitions to place food facilities into the most appropriate fee categories which best fit the facilities inspection needs. In future fee schedule reviews it would be appropriate to remove those unused categories and create any new ones that are needed.

The team has also developed seasonal facility categories that mirror our regular fee categories. These categories were developed to accommodate those facilities which only operate seasonally and will only receive a single annual inspection. Those fees are prorated for half of the regular year permit fee amount.
