

The I-80 corridor in the Foothills is a fine mosaic of low density development and small patches of woodland. In the north Foothills, large tracts of natural land show a pattern of land cover reflecting topography and creeks.