

How to File for a Restraining Order – No Children (Domestic Violence)

Free

What is this for?	This packet contains the forms you need to ask for a Domestic Violence Protection Act (DVPA) restraining order when you do not have minor children with the person you want to restrain. See page 2 for more information about this type of restraining order and how they can protect you.
Step 1: Fill out the forms	Confidential CLETS Information (CLETS-001) Request for Domestic Violence Restraining Order (DV-100) Description of Abuse (DV-101) [optional, used if there are additional incidents of abuse] Notice of Court Hearing (DV-109) Temporary Restraining Order (DV-110) Make sure that you DESCRIBE IN DETAIL WHY YOU ARE AFRAID of the restrained person. The Judge will read what you write and needs to understand why you need a restraining order to protect you.
Step 2: File the forms	Get a number ticket for “Family Law” at the kiosk on the 1st floor of the Courthouse. File the forms with the clerk when your number is called.
eFiling	Alternatively, the Court has the option to file electronically through its eFile Service. However, these forms cannot be returned electronically. Hard copies must be picked up from the courthouse. For filing and more information, please visit placer.courts.ca.gov and select “eFiling” under the Online Services tab. This webpage contains instructions and FAQs to assist with the process. There is a service fee for eFiling paid to the third-party vendor and cannot be waived by the Court. Note: each form must be a separate PDF unless it contains attachments.
Filing fee	There is no filing fee. No copies are needed for filing.
Wait	When you file the paperwork with the clerk, you will be given information about how to check when your forms are ready for pick-up. Your forms (with the Judge’s orders) will be in the baskets by the Information Desk near the Deputies at the courthouse door.

Step 3: Review your forms after pick-up	Look carefully at the Temporary Restraining Order (DV-110) you turned in. The Judge reviewed your statements and made an order (or denied your order) on that form. See what orders were made, if any. These are the orders that are in effect immediately and continue until the court hearing.
Step 4: Serve the person you want restrained	You must have a copy of your forms handed (“personally served”) to the person you want restrained, along with a blank Response to Request (DV-120) and Proof of Firearms Turned In, Sold or Stored (DV-800). Someone 18 or older must serve the forms for you. You cannot serve the forms yourself. Whoever serves the forms must fill out a Proof of Personal Service (DV-200) and return it to you. The Sheriff’s Civil Division will serve domestic violence restraining orders for free. Take your forms for service to their office at: 2929 Richardson Drive Auburn, CA 95603 Talk to the Sheriff’s Office about whether they or you will need to file the proof of service they fill out after they serve the forms on the person you want to restrain.
Step 5: File the Proof of Service	Make 1 copy of the Proof of Personal Service (DV-200). Get a number ticket for “Family Law” at the kiosk on the 1st floor of the courthouse to file the original and copy. Keep the filed copy for your records.
Next steps:	Come to your court hearing prepared to tell the Judge why they should make the court orders you’ve asked for in your legal forms. Know that you can only ask the Judge to make orders or use information you included in your filing. If the Judge extends the court date (“continues”) or makes an order that day, make sure you don’t leave the courthouse until you have a filed copy of your order that shows the new court date and/or the order. Make copies and give them to anyone who needs to know you’re protected (job, school, etc) If the restrained person isn’t in court and the Judge makes orders, have someone serve them with the Judge’s orders to make sure the orders are enforceable by law enforcement.

Important Things to Know

Domestic violence is abuse or threats of abuse when the person being abused and the abuser are or have been in an intimate relationship (married or domestic partners, are dating or used to date, live or lived together, or have a child together). It is also when the abused person and the abusive person are closely related by blood or by marriage.

The domestic violence laws say “abuse” is:

- Physically hurting or trying to hurt someone, intentionally or recklessly;
- Sexual assault;
- Making someone reasonably afraid that they or someone else are about to be seriously hurt (like threats or promises to harm someone); OR
- Behavior like harassing, stalking, threatening, or hitting someone; disturbing someone’s peace; or destroying someone’s personal property.

The physical abuse is not just hitting. Abuse can be kicking, shoving, pushing, pulling hair, throwing things, scaring or following you, or keeping you from freely coming and going. It can even include physical abuse of the family pets.

Also, keep in mind that the abuse in domestic violence does not have to be physical. Abuse can be verbal (spoken), emotional, or psychological. You do not have to be physically hit to be abused.

What if the person I want protection from doesn’t live in Placer County. How do I serve them?

You can contact the Sheriff in other California counties or law enforcement in other states to learn about what they need from you to serve the person you want protection from (Scan and email to them? Fax only? Send multiple copies?, for examples). The Sheriff in Placer County will not serve parties who are out-of-county.

When your restraining order is granted and needs to be served you have several options – have a friend or family member serve, hire someone to serve (a “Process Server”), or ask that the Sheriff serve.

If my restraining order request is granted can I ask for law enforcement to be present while the restrained person moves out (a “civil standby”)?

Contact law enforcement in your area and ask them if they can be present to serve your restraining order forms and wait until the restrained person gathers their things and leaves the home. If they have higher priority emergencies they may not be able to provide staff to do this at certain times.

The benefit to this service option is that law enforcement is at your home to protect you during the move-out. With the Friend/Family or Process Server options there is no one present when service happens to make sure the restrained person moves out immediately. You should only be at home when the restrained person is served if law enforcement is present, for your and your server’s safety.

Can I Access My Court Case Electronically?

Court users can now receive access to their file/orders electronically by three different methods:

Online Portal: You can come to the courthouse and show ID to gain access;

eFiling: If you check the box on eFiling, you will receive your orders via email; you will also receive portal access if you pay for a filing (so you do not need to come into the courthouse to show ID); eService: You may consent to receive notice and orders by email. This can be done by submitting Judicial Council Form EFS-005-CV.
