Wraparound puts the child or youth and family at the center. With support from a team of professionals and natural supports, the family's ideas and perspectives about what they need and what will be helpful drive all of the work in Wraparound. The young person and their family members work with a Wraparound facilitator to build their Wraparound team, which can include the family's friends and people from the wider community, as well as providers of services and supports. With the help of the team, the family and young person take the lead in deciding team vision and goals, and in developing creative and individualized services and supports that will help them achieve the goals and vision. Team members work together to put the plan into action, monitor how well it's working, and change it as needed. Referrals for Placer County Wraparound are received from Placer County Probation, Child

Welfare, the Children's Mental Health Team, and from other system partners.

Functional Family Therapy (FFT)- Functional Family Therapy is an evidenced based program that receives referrals for all Placer County families regardless of insurance or referring party. The service is provided by CSOC clinicians and is intended for youth 11-18 years old who are experiencing a major loss of functioning in an area of life and it is thought that family relationships are a part of this. The service is time limited to 12-14 weeks.

Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA) - CASA supporting juvenile justice youth is a specialized extension of the CASA and Youth Mentoring role. It takes the relationship a step further from a traditional CASA role with the amount of time spent and communication between the volunteer and the youth. Contact happens a minimum of one time per week in person, with additional phone/text contact as needed. Volunteers work with the youth to develop a positive and trusting relationship, engage in positive, prosocial activities to help the youth feel connected to their community, and help the youth connect to restorative justice/community service opportunities to help give back to their community. Volunteers can support the youth through their Probation experience, work on life skills, set goals, and ultimately be a consistent/trusted adult in their life.

Alcoholics Anonymous - Alcoholics Anonymous is an international mutual aid fellowship with the stated purpose of enabling its members to "stay sober and help other alcoholics achieve sobriety."

Forward Thinking - The Forward Thinking Journal Series is a cognitive-behavioral series that uses evidence-based strategies to assist youth involved in the criminal justice system in making positive changes to their thoughts, feelings and behaviors. Secure Youth Treatment Program (SYTP):

Overview

The Secure Youth Treatment Program (SYTP) is dedicated to youth ages 14 and older who are found by the Court to be unsuitable for a less restrictive program and are therefore, ordered to be committed to the Juvenile Detention Facility (JDF).

SYTP is a highly structured, treatment program designed to provide young people tools, through education and services, for positive change and to be healthy, productive members in their community.

The goal is to set each youth up for success on their next journey of either reunifying with their families or living on their own. An Individual Rehabilitation Plan will be developed with each youth and their family. This will include having multiple outside providers come into the JDF to assist the youth in the following: substance use, mental health, employment and vocational skills, cognitive behavioral skills, transition planning, and positive intervention responses.

The amount of time each youth will be in the program will be based on the baseline term ordered by the Court. Each youth will have a review hearing every six months to evaluate their progress in relation to their Individual Rehabilitation Plan.

Population

Youth ages 14-25, who have been adjudicated for a 707(b) offense and have been found unsuitable for a less restrictive program by the Court.

Housing Assignments

Youth will work with a multidisciplinary team of mental and behavioral health, educators, probation officers, medical and other treatment providers to develop an Individual Rehabilitation Plan to ensure they are provided services inside the facility as well as when they transition out of the facility. Facility information shall also include information on how the facilities will ensure the safety and protection of youth having different ages, genders, special needs, and other relevant characteristics. (WIC 1995 (4))

Placer County will utilize their Juvenile Detention Facility to house our in-custody target population. Our facility will consider placement in one of four housing units based on the offense severity and treatment needs which will include the safety and protection of youth's different ages, gender and special needs.

One unit will be utilized as our library and career/education center where youth will have access to a variety of books and computers for their specific needs and goals.

General population Unit: Moderate to low-risk youth

- Two-tiered housing unit.
- Usable day-space that can be utilized for programming needs.
- Access to both an indoor sports court and outside field that can be utilized for LME

Graduates and Career Tech Unit: No youth housed here- programming only.

Part 6: Retaining the Target Population in the Juvenile Justice System

Describe how the plan will incentivize or facilitate the retention of the target population within the jurisdiction and rehabilitative foundation of the juvenile justice system, in lieu of transfer to the adult criminal justice system: (WIC 1995 (5))

The JDF and field supervision has many incentives built into their programming to assist youth in making positive choices to ensure they do not transfer to the adult criminal justice system.

JDF Incentives

SYTP will utilize Positive Interventions Behavior and Support (PBIS) as an incentive based, behavior modification strategy. Youth will have the ability to earn points throughout the day. The level system is designed to encourage positive and appropriate behavior on a long-term schedule, and to provide positive reinforcement for good behavior on a tiered basis.

The JDF will also offer a less restrictive program, PYC. The program will utilize PBIS, as described above, and will also have the opportunity to earn the following incentives during each phase:

- Phase I: Extra Visitation with one outside meal
- Phase II: Extra Visitation with two outside meals, Off-Site Field Trip
- Phase III: Off-Site Field Trips and Day Passes
- Phase IV: Off-Site Field Trips and Home Passes

Field Supervision Incentives

- Employment opportunities
- Gift card
- Changes to curfew
- Early Release from Juvenile Hall
- Early Termination of Secure Youth Track
- Access to Increased and Extended Furloughs
- Special Meal Incentives

Part 7: Regional Effort

Describe any regional agreements or arrangements supported by the County’s block grant allocation: (WIC 1995 (6))

We do not currently have regional agreements or arrangements with other counties.

Part 8: Data

Describe how data will be collected on youth served by the block grant: (WIC 1995 (7))

Data will be collected utilizing the Probation Department’s Case Management System, which records information and events at the individual level. Demographic data is collected, including age, race, ethnicity, gender and probation status. The case management system also records case and court information, behavior and incident events, and rehabilitative programming enrollment and progress.

Describe outcome measures that will be utilized to determine the results of the programs and interventions supported by block grant funds: (WIC 1995 (7))

Data will be reported utilizing the Probation Department's Case Management System, which reports information and events at the individual level, but can be thereafter compiled into an aggregate report.

(A) All data elements currently capture by JCPSS that are to be retained: The Case Management System automatically collects and compiles JCPSS required data points into required reports.

(B) Data and outcome measures needed to produce, at minimum, recidivism reports for youth organized by age, gender identity, race, ethnicity, and other demographic factors: The Case Management system captures youth demographics which can be organized into a report with new arrests and adjudication events after release to determine recidivism.

(C) Data and outcome measures needed to document caseload and placement changes due to the realignment of the state Division of Juvenile Justice to counties: The Case Management System records Placement start and end dates, location, and placement termination status, including successful completion, at the individual level.

(D) How the revised system will document the following:

(i) Subsequent referrals to the justice system for violations of probation and warrants: The Case Management System records the dates and types of known referrals, violations, and warrants through specific events, which can be combined with youth demographic information for individual or aggregate reporting.

(ii) The use of preadjudication and postadjudication detention, including length of stay: The Case Management System records each detention event at the individual level, including arrests and release dates, and the reason for detention. Total days can be calculated during the reporting process to determine length of stay at the individual and aggregate level.

(iii) The use of detention alternatives, such as electronic monitoring, house arrest, or home supervision: The Case Management System records the dates and types of alternative detention including Electronic Monitoring and Home Supervision through specific events, which can be combined with youth demographic information for reporting. Total days can be calculated during the reporting process to determine length of time on program and program completion at the individual level or aggregate level.

(iv) Dispositional placement outcomes by facility type, including length of stay in facilities. "Facility type" includes juvenile halls, group homes, foster care, county camp or ranch, and local facilities developed as an alternative to Division of Juvenile Justice facilities: The Case Management System records the dates and types of dispositions, including facility or placement type, which can be combined with youth demographic information for reporting.
