BACKGROUND

Placer County Children's System of Care (CSOC) is responsible for administering an Independent Living Program (ILP) for youth, including those in extended foster care, who are making the transition from foster care to independence. These services include workshops for employment and college readiness, budgeting, hygiene and health, case management, housing, and incentives to participate in the program. During the pandemic, there has been an awareness that youth have needed additional financial aid and additional services to cope with the stress and strain of transitioning to adulthood. This awareness has translated into state and federal enhancements of benefits to support the needs of Placer's youth.
